RE: INTERVIEW WITH OPERATIVE RAYMOND DE SOUZA

REPORT INITIATED

MOTIVATION:

The motivation came from Cardinal Joseph Ratzinger, when he delivered the homily at the conclave that elected him Pope. He spoke about the 'dictatorship of relativism' that is confronting the world and he called for a clear faith according to the creed of the church. On the one hand, we face a great problem: a dictatorship of relativism. On the other hand we have a great solution: a clear faith according to the creed of the Church.

DICTATORSHIP OF RELATIVISM: CONTRADICTION IN TERMS?

It's only an apparent contradiction. A dictatorship pre-supposes the imposition of the will of one, or the ideas of one, on others. The extreme opposite is relativism; one does and believes what he thinks best. But in the cardinal's view, today Pope Benedict XVI, he brought the two concepts together. He showed that in our days our whole culture imposes on everyone the attitude of relativism, whereby everyone is supposed to be the master of his own life and of his own truth. Nobody is allowed to affirm anything objectively true or objectively false.

CONSEQUENCES OF RELATIVISM?

There are many. Perhaps the most important one in our times is the de-Christianization of our culture and from the Church's point of view, the crisis of faith, the crisis of un-belief.

IS IT A RELIGIOUS MATTER?

Not really, it is much more than that. It involves a de-Christianization of the Western culture. The Christian elements of our culture are being extirpated. Pope Pius XII in 1953 alerted mankind - not just the church but mankind in general - about the three elements that were threatening the destruction of civilization: politics without God, economy without God and Law without God. This makes a Godless culture and society.

WHAT HAPPENS IF WESTERN CULTURE BECOMES DE-CHRISTIANIZED?

A widespread thirst. A worship of profit, power and pleasure. The disappearance of Christian values. The problem is that when Christianity leaves Western culture, a cultural vacuum is not left behind. Another culture takes its place. In this case, Islam. The islamization of Europe is a reality today, as the Pope's Private Secretary, Father Georg Gänswein, has alerted mankind. He said in July of 2007, "The Islamization of Europe is a reality and the Catholic Church clearly sees this danger."

PURPOSE OF THE SERIES?

The purpose is precisely to combat this dictatorship of relativism, to revive the notions of truth and error, of good and evil, of order and disorder. Naturally, this pre-supposes a sane mind. To carry out the cultural counter-revolution. That is the very purpose of the Mission: Possible! series.

WHAT WILL BE COVERED?

We'll not remain only in the field of religion, but we'll talk about cultural de-Christianization, islamization. We'll talk about issues involving morality such as contraception, abortion, euthanasia, stem cell research, homosexuality, the very crisis in the church, the crisis of faith in the Catholic Church. There's no taboo subject. We will investigate everything we are able to.

WHY "MISSION: POSSIBLE!"

I chose Mission: Possible! because of the old series from the 60's, 'Mission Impossible' where a group of men performed fantastic operations to defend good and combat evil. That was our idea. The only difference of course that we call our name 'Mission" Possible!' not 'Impossible' because today it is possible for lay people who want to be faithful to the Holy Mother Church to arm themselves with the knowledge of Catholic teaching and Divine Grace to combat this dictatorship of relativism, to defend the Kingship of Christ and promote the faith and the Truth of Our Lord in His Church.
